

New Plan for Harding High Junior-Senior Party Gets Almost Unanimous Vote

Semi-Formal Social Event with Buffet Refreshments is Favored by Students To Replace Annual Banquet, Proposal Goes to Principal for Approval

The old order changed, yielding place to new. After several years of dissatisfaction with the plan of the annual Junior-Senior banquet of Harding High school students at the Star auditorium, several nights previous, graduation the juniors and seniors came to an almost unanimous agreement last night to change the program of this event.

Twenty-four out of 31 classes entered in the new bid, the first gathering in the history of both classes. The plan was fostered by Harry Dorsey, a senior, and Herbert Cherringer, a junior, and a petition was drawn up and signed by the students for approval. Last night the boys presented the plan to the two upper classes and it was accepted almost unanimously. Short speeches were made by James Noel, senior class president, and Jack H. Hot, junior class president, congratulating the students on their acceptance of a plan radically different from that of any year past.

Submitted to Principal J. H. Marshall, which will be final approval means that a semi-formal Junior-Senior party with buffet refreshments will be held from 7 to 10 o'clock following the senior class will get the plan for class dresses and talks by members of the faculty. One of the suggestions by a group of several students following the regular last meeting was for a semi-formal banquet.

The idea of a Junior-Senior party other than the banquet which was particularly objectionable from the standpoint of the dance arena, was brought up by individual members of the classes last year but was not formally presented.

Senior class cars are expected to arrive soon at the school fully, at a later date by the class institutions. The selling of the same cars was a minor class project and the profits from the sales was sufficient to warrant the purchase of a high school bus.

In School Colors

The flag, with its red and blue, reflects the colors of the school building in fringe and bangles, from an upright standard. A large letter H in reverse red and black colors will reflect the flag, which will be a regular banner also with the letter H in the center of the top.

Another of the senior activities which was launched last night was the completion of arrangements for publication of the program for the Queen's Husband to be presented the last of May. The program will be found in heavy royal purple paper

WRITES HISTORY

PRIVATE McCOLLUM

BOOK SALE PLANNED
AS LEGION BENEFIT

Orders for "Lost Battalion"
History To Be Taken
Over Telephone

Announcement of a book sale campaign planned to assist Bird-McGinnis Post, No. 102, of the American Legion, in paying off its indebtedness on the Legion Dugout, was made today by the post commander, T. E. Kinneer. The book, which will be sold through telephone solicitation, is "History and Rhymes of the Lost Battalion," written by "Buck Private" McCollum, a member of the battalion.

There is to be no house-to-house canvass, Kinneer announces. Several local young women will be employed to conduct the solicitation, which will be entirely by telephone from the Dugout, South High st. The plan, as explained by Kinneer, will be for the young women to call local residents over the phone, calling attention to the book and the purpose of the sale. Persons indicating that they would like to receive the book are later visited by a member of the post, who will make delivery and collect $1. The names of the purchasers will appear in the volume.

The book is described as a handsomely bound volume telling not only the history of the famous World War battalion, but also containing the most famous of the many poems written in connection with its daring and immortal exploit.

"This is a commercial proposition, in which purchasers get value received for each dollar and at the same time they are assisting materially in the work of the legion," Kinneer says.

I'M ALONE SINKING TO BE ARBITRATED

Correspondence Fails To Clear
U. S. Justification of Firing
on Runner

WASHINGTON, April 26—The Canadian schooner I'm Alone left the coast of Alaska in 1912 and was found in the Gulf of Mexico with the crew from coast guard cutter March 22. Correspondence between the American and Canadian governments has failed to clear this country's justification of firing the run-runner to the bottom. The two governments have agreed to have the British-American pecuniary commission arbitrate the controversy and impose damages.

Canadian Minister Vincent Massey notified Secretary of State Stimson his government has information that the cutter Walcott first sighted the I'm Alone beyond the 12-mile and one hour's steaming distance in which the United States has right to start pursuit of run-runners under the ship treaty with Great Britain. The cutter Walcott joined the chase on the second day with the "deliberate intention" of sinking the ship, Massey said.
Coast guard date placed the schooner 10.5 miles off shore and within territorial waters. Stimson explained in his correspondence that the ship-liquor treaty with Britain "is of novel character and has extended the right of arrest to a greater distance than has hitherto been acknowledged under international law."

They are to be held late this afternoon.
High schools entered in the extemporaneous speaking contest include Mansfield, Elvira, Fremont, Troy, Portsmouth, Marietta, Van Wert, Kenton, Ironton, Ashler, Bowling Green, Lorain, and Westerville.

HURTER FUNERAL RITES HELD AT MT. VICTORY

Funeral services for Mrs. Nellie Hurter, former Mt. Victory resident, who died at the home of her son, Wilbur Hurter, in Shelby, took place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Mt. Victory M. E. church with the Rev. Mr. George, of Mt. Victory, in charge. Interment was made in Hiale cemetery. Mr. Victory, The Pythian Sisters of Mt. Victory were in charge of the services. The body was taken from Shelby to Mt. Victory in the W. C. Boyd funeral car.

BOY, 16, TAKES LIFE

BELLEFONTAINE, April 26—A 16-year-old boy, Francis Ruben, committed suicide by hanging himself to a rafter in the barn at his home near here, according to the coroner's report today. When the boy's father first saw the dangling boy, he thought his son was standing on a step-ladder.

When a man ceases to be known as a good fellow he has either become very rich or has gone broke.

"Gee, dad, but it's fun when you play with me. Wish you'd do this all the time!"

"Well, son, I guess I'll be acting more human from now on, since I've got rid of my grouchy old feet. These new Arch Preserver Shoes make me feel like a kid again."

Six pyramids located near the great pyra-

The dead army pilot, who crashed into a big passenger plane at San Diego with a resultant death toll of six persons, has been held responsible for the horror and held to have "criminally neglected" and violated the rules of aviation. The trouble is that the finding is made after all those involved in the accident have been killed. Safety lies in penalizing all those who may offend in the future regardless of whether results of their
offending be fatal or otherwise.

On the Road to Health.

Unless the unexpected happens and King George suffers another illness, there will be no British regency. Speculation regarding the possibility of a regency is no more, as there is general recognition of the fact that possible
need of it is passed. King George has traveled so far along the road to health, that announcement has been made that he will be at Windsor by the 19th of the coming month
and will return to Buckingham palace by the end of May.

In voicing his thankfulness for his recovery in a message to the British people, sent out from Craigwell House last Monday, King George not only expresses his gratitude to them for their evidences of kindness, but also to the world as well. His says, in part:
"In looking back on my long illness my heart is full of thankfulness of a far deeper
origin than any mere sense of relief."
As month after month went by I learned of the widespread and loving solicitude with which the queen and I have been surrounded.
I am able to picture to myself the crowds of friends watching and waiting at my gates and
to think of the still greater number of those who, in every part of the empire were remembering me with prayers and good wishes.
The realization of this has been among the most vivid experiences of my life.

My thoughts have carried me even further than this. I can not dwell upon the generous sympathy shown to me by unknown friends
in many other countries without a new moving of hope. I long to believe it possible that experiences such as mine may soon appear
no longer exceptional; when the national anxieties of all the peoples of the world shall be felt as a common source of human empathy and a common claim on human friendship."

We have said much regarding King George during his illness because of our interest in
him, an interest which must be general
among all those who honor and respect a man
for a clean, upright Christian life. But our interest has been beyond this. It has been
because of our conviction that the present
British ruler has been one of the best the British people have had in recent centuries.
His life, both public and private, has been without spot or blemish. His life has been one for emulation by his people. His devotion to their interests is beyond question. He is a high-minded, Christian gentleman—no
fewer one ever sat upon the British throne.
To record the return of such a monarch to
health is an undiluted pleasure.

Churches Making Gains.

The churches of the United States made a fine showing in 1928, the census conducted by the Christian Herald establishing a membership gain of 1,116,000 during the year,
almost double that of 1927 which was a little in excess of 572,000. The Baptist church led in the gain with 375,812 new members, the Roman Catholic church was second with 260,153 and the Disciples of Christ third with 173,023. Three denominations showed losses in membership. They were the Evangelical Synod of North America, the Evangelical church and the Friends.
All the other denominations showed gains,
but none of them other than the three stated
reported increases reaching the 100,000
mark. With the increases reported, the total membership of the various denominations at the beginning of the present year were:
Roman Catholic, 17,095,344; Methodist Episcopal, 4,611,097; Southern Baptist, 3,
823,660; National Baptist—colored—2,516,
542; Methodist Episcopal South, 2,550,835;
Presbyterian, 1,918,971; Disciples of Christ,
1,526,692; Northern Baptist, 1,119,863;
Protestant Episcopal, 1,215,383.
"This high conquest," says Dr. H. K. Carroll, of the Christian Herald, "comes out of period of inland hope and fear. Just after the World War churches were uncomfortably
near the edge of actual defeat."
"A few years ago a few of the most hopeful ones reported net losses. Unusual losses
assailed them, losses by excessive pruning,
by wandering sheep, by irresponsible members."
"Last year the churches were encouraged by a clear gain of more than 573,000. Now
this increase has been nearly doubled."

If it is good to know that the hope the churches took from the increased membership
of 1927—the doctor refers to it as last year,
but he manifestly means 1927—has been justified by the record of 1928. There is ground for congratulation, that the churches
of the land are thus emerging from the condition which was theirs at the close of the war, to which the doctor makes reference.
As the figures herein given show, not all of our population is made up of church members. Not all of us are church-goers, but there are very few of us who do not believe in the church and its work. We do not mean the work some of the members of the churches are doing; we refer only to the religious work of the church. Many do not approve of the political work of some of its devotees, but we believe that all of us—our practically all—honor and respect the church
when engaged in the true work of the church.
In any event, we believe it is safe to say that it is the remarkably exceptional man or woman who would be willing to reside in a city which did not possess a church. We know this. In well over three decades we have never met a man or woman willing to say that a community would be better off without a church than with one. And this appeals to us as a pretty fair test of the worth of a church to any community.

France has not yet arranged to pay the war
debt she owes us, or even paid for the war material purchased from us following the war, but she shows that she is right up to the minute by launching the Foch, the 616-foot,

horsepower capable of driving her at a speed
of thirty-three knots.

Ranching New York from Europe, the Red
Star liner, Pennland, reports having drifted

that wouldn't be exactly what we would call
a pleasure voyage.

District Attorney Blount, of New York,
threatens to prevent the Froberg players
from putting on the Passion Play in that city
on the ground that it presents a living representation of the Delly. Barring the Passion Play and permitting the film with which the New York stage has been flooded for years would be a lot like straining at a gnat
and swallowing an entire man.

The British board of trade investigation
of the Vestris disaster has established the fact that the voyage on which she sank was not the first on which she had been greatly overloaded. Isn't it about time for the United States to legislate to put an end to this menace to life?

Henry Prather Fletcher, it is announced, is to retire as ambassador to Rome and quit
the diplomatic service after a connection with it of a quarter of a century. He's too good
a man to be permitted to remain idle long,
which fact apparently is appreciated in his home state of Pennsylvania where he is already mentioned as a candidate for the United States senate.

Lloyd George says that the Allies broke
faith with Germany by failing to disarm.
They agreed they would at the time they dis-
armed her, and that at present their armaments are greater than before the war. As far as that goes, what they did to the entire
fourteen-point program was a holy caution.

Paris reports that the four persons who died on the around-the-world tour of the Duchess of Atholl, as a result of malaria contracted from insect bites while they were marooned by flood waters on a side trip to Victoria falls, were of extreme age or greatly weakened constitutions, which brings up another mystery: why is it that so many of the very old, the lame, the feeble and the ill are found on all world tours and traveling about foreign lands.

Safety Director Barry has ordered the police of Cleveland to wreck all "bootleg places" without waiting for warrants. Possibly such places deserve that fate, but the Cleveland authorities will be wise to be in position to prove that the places are bootleg
joints before submitting them to the crowd
and the ax. At times, misdirected zeal proves mighty expensive.

How To Feed Infants.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Fortunate indeed is the babe born in an enlightened land. With popular education and valued instruction in the care of infants, the American baby is blessed indeed.
When we contrast the scientific feeding of our youngsters with what is done in certain lands, we must rejoice that we know how to care for the little ones. I want now to read how, a recent writer describes the care of infants in one part of the Orient.

After a beautiful tribute to the mother love,
telling how the child is spoiled, the author laments
the ignorance of the uneducated and uninformed parent. The mother "would never discipline the child, even though she knew the meaning of the word." Listen:
"She has not the vaguest conception how to feed
him or develop him. Her idea of a sufficient meal is to tie a string around his little brown body and stuff him till the string bursts."

Just this terrible!
Thank God, the mothers of modern civilization
are not limited in their knowledge of how to feed
a baby. Neither are they bound by the blindness of tradition. Our mothers are eager to find the very best way to deal with their children and they are free to apply their knowledge. That is why the infant death rate is steadily decreasing.

I have often said that the degree of civilization
is measured by the infant deaths. That standard determines the progress of a community.
I shall never forget the quiet and modest admonition of the chief personal assistant to the commissioner soon after I took charge of the Health Department of New York City. This good
woman called my attention to a graphic chart,
showing the infant deaths. "The success or failure of your administration will be determined by
what is added to this chart during your administration."

The full significance of this statement did not dawn upon me at once. But the more I learned of public health work, the more I became convinced that the way we care for the babies determines our humanity, our scientific knowledge, our real civil progress.

There is little more to say today. It is enough to add that the foundation of health is laid in the early years of life. The usefulness of the adult,
the ability to think straight and to work hard, the
physique to meet successfully the contests of life—
all these depend on the mother wisdom applied in those early years.

From time to time, infant feeding will be discussed in this column. No American mother will depend on the breaking of a string as a test of sufficient feeding. She will know exactly what must be fed, how much must be fed, and what must not be given her baby. By the application of simple rules of hygiene her precious infant will grow strong.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES.

"A READER." Q—What will remove superfluous hair?
A—Send self-addressed, stamped envelope for further particulars and repeat your question.

J.R.L. Q—What do you advise for vertigo?
A—An examination will determine the exact
cause and then definite treatment can be prescribed.

C.M.H.O.J. Q—What causes an itching all over the body?
A—This may be due to pruritis.

P.T. Q—What causes bites?
A—This condition is usually due to some food
which causes irritation.

MRS. M.B. Q—What can I do for fallen arches?
A—It would be wise to consult an orthopedist.

Editorial Opinion.

OLD TAMMANY.

The election Tuesday of John F. Curry to succeed George W. Olney as head of Tammany Hall
is a reversion of the organization to type. Curry
was Charles F. Murphy's right hand. His election to the post held by his former chief is taken to mean that Tammany will abandon the field of national and state politics in which it has interested itself in the last few years and turn back to local and ward activity of the kind that made it the best illustration of a powerful
political machine working in its own interests.
The change from the new Tammany of recent years to the old Tammany that preceded it is likely, as the New York World puts it, to have the following results: 1—Make it impossible for any Tammany Democrat to be nominated for a nationwide office. 2—Reduce the chance of the re-election of Governor Roosevelt. 3—Diminish the power of Tammany in city affairs after Mayor Walker leaves office. 4—Lose to Tammany the
"counsel, guidance and campaigning" of Alfred E.
Smith which have contributed so much to Tam-
many success in the city, and to Democratic success in the state.
Pretty clearly former Governor Smith as well
as Senator Wagner and Surrogate Foley were dis-
pleased with the decision of Tammany to choose a head from among its own district leaders. For when that intention was made known all three refused to give further counsel. None of the district leaders in their opinion was qualified to carry forward the program of the new Tammany.
Mayor Walker's prestige in the organization,
however, is enormously increased since he was the only one of the "Big Four" who approved the choice of a district leader. He was also believed to be favorable to Curry.
As a consequence his political fortunes have been improved as a result of the Tammany reorganization. Olney, the retiring leader, and the reform group have not been pleased with the Walker administration and it was rumored not many weeks ago that the nomination might go elsewhere.
But Tammany Hall under Curry will be strongly
for Walker. And barring unforeseen developments
such as the nomination of a strong fusion candidate he will have little trouble in being reelected.
But as the World says the election of a district-
politician type of leader "will chill the confidence
and repulse the cooperation of forward-looking Democrats elsewhere which it has taken years of hard work to earn." In its judgment, Tammany was at the crossroads in the selection of its new leader and chose the wrong course. — Cleveland

SOVIET RECOGNITION.

Senator Borah has lost no time in introducing
a resolution to put the senate on record as favoring the formal diplomatic recognition of the soviet regime. The futility of such a resolution is so obvious that one suspects that the gentleman from Idaho is merely seeking to invent an expression of his personal views in the impermissible records of the senate. The recognition of foreign governments is one of the few executive prerogatives that are exercisable without the consent and approval of Senator Borah and his colleagues.

The reasons why the United States should not recognize the soviet government in Moscow are as strong today as they were when Secretary Hughes defined them. They include the refusal of the soviet to honor and assume responsibility
for completing international obligations entered into by the government of the czar; and the persistence of Moscow in subversive movements
against other governments. As long as it pursues
its present course of treachery and intrigue, we can not formally recognize the soviet regime without appearing to give official approval to its acts.
The present administration in Washington is no
more likely to do that than was its predecessor.

Getting the Sun's Weight.

BY GARRETT P. SERVICE.

"How do they know that the sun is 333,000
times heavier than the earth?"—Mary A.
Craff, Kenton, Ohio.
It is about 332,000 times heavier. There are various ways of proving it, and I am tempted to show you one of the easiest. It will be a little exercise in arithmetic, but
all girls like it.
There are certain interesting things that you must know to begin with, but they are joy forever when you get acquainted with them. First then, the attractive force, which any body possesses is proportional to its mass, which we in ordinary speech call its weight, and that word will answer our purpose now, although the scientist's idea of weight is not exactly the same as the grower's.
This proportionality which I have just mentioned shows you that we can find out the relative weight of the sun as compared with the earth by first ascertaining what the attractive force of each of them is. Now, we find out very easily what the earth's attractive force is by observing how fast a train
any body that we can handle, say a stick
toward itself when the body is allowed to fall.
We find that this amounts to a speed of thirty-
two feet per second, imparted in the first
second of time; i. e., a body allowed to fall
will gain a velocity of thirty-two feet during every second that it continues to fall. This means that after one second it will be going
at the rate of thirty-two feet per second, at the end of two seconds at the rate of two thirty-two or sixty-four feet, and so on. We this speed of thirty-two feet which the attraction of the earth adds every second to the velocity of a falling body is called acceleration, and it is a fundamental fact in science.
It is distinguished in scientific calculations by the letter g. Now, remember that g is proportional to the mass—weight—of the earth.
For then, if we can find out how fast the
sun's attraction would make the body fall,
evidently we can tell how much the sun's weight exceeds the earth's.

But I have to remind you of another preliminary fact, very pleasing and profitable, I know. This is that the force of attraction called gravitation, becomes smaller as the distance becomes greater, and in truth it decreases so rapidly that it is proportional inversely to the square of the increase of distance. Double the distance and the force becomes one-fourth, triple the distance and the force becomes one-ninth, and so on. Although like the earth and the sun have the force of attraction focused at their centers.

Now, you can see at once that to compute
the sun's force directly with the earth's should have to have them acting over the same distance. But in fact the earth is pulling upon the stone near its surface, so long over only about 3,960 miles, the distance
from its surface to its center, while the sun
is pulling upon the earth is acting over about 22,900,000 miles which is the distance from the sun to the earth. However, we can make the comparison indirectly, in this way:

In the first place we find by calculation
based on the distance of the sun and the speed of the earth in its orbit, that the sun
pulls upon the earth produces an acceleration
of the 0.0191 of a foot per second, which about 1-1854th of the acceleration produced by the earth upon the stone. But the sun
acting over a distance about 23,460 times
greater than that over which the earth is acting so to find what the acceleration produced
the sun would be at an equal distance,
must multiply 1-1854 by the square of 23,460
or 550,371,600. But 1-1854 multiplied 550,371,600 equals 332,750, which by the proximate figures we have used, is the number of times that the sun's weight exceeds that of the earth.—Copyright, 1923, International Features Service, Inc.

MILK ORDINANCE TO BE ENFORCED

Requiring, Cooling Houses Must Be Obeyed, Gruber Announces

An ordinance, which requires dairies to use milk to be used in Marion, to be strictly enforced, Dr. J. Gruber, city milk and meat inspector, said today.

Personal inspection by Dr. Gruber of the 400 dairies shipping milk to Marion has been under way for some time and many dairies have been refused permits to sell milk here when they failed to comply with the provisions of the ordinance.

"About 100 milk houses have been erected since the ordinance has been in effect," Dr. Gruber said. "Originally there were but 25 of the 400 dairies shipping to Marion equipped with these houses. Extension of time has been granted some dairies, most of which are now erecting or plan to erect the cooling houses."

"On farms, the artificial cooling of milk in milk houses is done by water, which brings the temperature of the milk down to 52 or 53 degrees Fahrenheit. In milk kept at this temperature above this the bacteria growth and multiplication is very rapid," Dr. Gruber said.

The specifications of the ordinance require that "all producers must have within a reasonable time a well-lighted sanitary and ventilated milk house with proper cooling equipment and storage for milk."

"That will be enforced to the letter," Dr. Gruber said.

McFadden has been in various theatrical enterprises, and is now a patient in the veterans' bureau hospital at Dayton.

Standing immediately to the right of McFadden is Sergeant Zed Gauder.

The two 15-year-old buglers of the company are also shown in the picture. One is Harry T. "Possum" Love and John F. Sailer. Love is dead. Sailer is employed at the Marion Steam Ship Co. plant.

Three members of the local company died in the service. They were W. C. Winter, Guy E. Fernin and James H. Coats.

On May 9, 1898 members of the Marion National Guard company were made part of the regular army as the 4th U. S. I. at Columbus. Shortly the regiment left Columbus for Chickamauga Park, where it remained in training until July 22.

While the regiment was here, Sergeant McMurray was sent back to Marion to obtain sufficient recruits to increase the company to 100 men.

Leaving the last training ground, the regiment was sent to Newport News, where it took boat for Porto Rico. Landing Aug. 2 at Oranjo the regiment went into action at Guayama two days later.

Following the signing of peace on Aug. 12 the local company with others was assigned to patrol the east half of the island. On Oct. 29, less than six months after the company left Marion, it boarded a transport, bound for home. According to Dr. McMurray the company was returned in time to vote at the November election. The soldiers were given a furlough on arriving at Columbus. They were mustered out the following January.

Chris Abel, former courthouse janitor, and U. E. Gubbery, former county auditor, are seen in the window of the auditor's office on the right of the picture.

Company Roster

Members of the company when mustered in were:

Capt. Fred W. Peters, First Lieut. Fred S. Tilt, Second Lieut. T. E. Andrews, First Sergeant James E. Messenger, Q. M. Sergeant Frank L. Lattimore, Zed E. Gauder, Charles R. Lattimore, James W. McMurray and George H. Irvin, all sergeants.

Corporals Will H. Hunt, Wesley C. Winters, Ernest Dyer, William P. Amrine, Nathaniel J. Clapper, Frank L. Jordan, P. Charles Slump, John E. Dutton, Newberry W. Wheeler, Omer A. P. Ward, Frank C. Storason, Charles F. Copeland and William E. Cleveland.

Harry T. Love and John F. Sailer, musicians, Robert L. Rathell, artificer.

AREA CATTLE TEST TO START MONDAY

First Inspection in County To Be Made in Pleasant Township

State and federal departments, will be used in connection with the area work here. This test consists of the injection of a small amount of tuberculin between the layers of skin of any bovine, and noting the reaction. The animals affected are easily distinguished, and are disposed of as soon as possible.

The area tests are required every third year for complete protection. If the cattle county is tested, the diseased animals will be removed and the contagion will not spread rapidly. Consequently frequent tests are not necessary.

The area test is somewhat similar to the local tests of Marion dairies conducted annually by Dr. Gruber. In this case there is no compensation for the animals destroyed. The requirements of the city demand that all cattle used in dairies selling milk in Marion must be free from tuberculosis.

HOLD RITES FOR I. C. KELLER, 65

Paralysis Fatal to Prospect Resident; Relatives Survive

PROSPECT, April 26.—Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Ira C. Keller, 65, who died Wednesday morning at his home here. The Rev. C. W. Sulzbach, officiating, and interment was made in the Prospect cemetery.

Mr. Keller's death followed an illness of paralysis and complications. He was born at Newark, N. J., 1869, the son of Eli and Fidelity Haller-Keller. Mr. Keller moved to a farm near here in October 1889 and was engaged in raising blooded livestock and poultry. He retired about two years ago on account of failing health. He was a member of the M. E. church and of the Masonic lodge.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Corn Gibson Keller, to whom Mr. Keller was married Feb. 12, 1890; one son, Tracy Keller; three daughters, Mrs. Reed Hughes, Mrs. L. D. Fleming and Mrs. Marion Anson; and three grandchildren, all of Prospect.

At Toledo, a real roller, seldom seen in Ohio, tore through the southern section of the city, tore a roof from a large building and buried it across a street into a telephone pole. A school near the workshop, in which hundreds of pupils were quartered, was narrowly missed by the twister.

Akron was probably in the hardest hit section. Barus were blown down, trees were uprooted and cellars were flooded by the accompanying rain.

The airplane hangar at Garberston, near Akron, was swept from its foundation and toppled over, causing $17,000 loss.

About 500 chickens were killed when the near-tornado hit the farm of L. J. Libis, in the Akron vicinity.

Highways in both states were rendered impassable by the tornado; telephone and telegraph lines severed; trees uprooted and carried considerable distances and farm buildings and crops severely damaged.

A child was killed and several persons injured at Iteiz, where a group

A NEW POLISH that also Cleans

When you go over your floors, woodwork or furniture with Hoover Polishing Wax, you do two things—remove the grime and replace it with a lovely lustrous polish. Think what a saving of time that means—not to have to clean the surface before you wax it! And think what a beautiful polish you are assured—when it goes on always over a thoroughly cleansed surface!

HOOVER POLISHING WAX

Is a liquid that spreads thin and goes far; dries immediately and shines to a hard, non-sticky brilliance. It doesn't take vigorous rubbing—just the lightest going over. The polish is not slippery—and it is lasting. It does not hold dirt and it does shed water. On furniture it leaves no bluish cast or bloom. You'll like this new finish—greatly. And you will find it at Department, Furniture, Hardware and Drug Stores and Garages.

Old-Time Hacks, Once Worth More Than $1,000 Each, Stand Idle at Fairgrounds

FUNERAL hacks, worth over $1,000 each two decades ago, now stand idle. Carriages of luxury and beauty, the finest of their time, are now slowly rotting, useless and without value. Some of these imposing vehicles are yet to be seen in Marion, although no longer in use.

Horse drawn hacks were of as many different grades as the automobiles of today, and the coachwork on some of them, especially on funeral carriages of the better grade, was as luxurious as the interior of some of the best automobiles. Quality was not spared.

At the fairgrounds, one may now see three funeral hacks, of the archaic style used 20 years ago. The glass has been taken from them, practically the only salable part, but the quality built into these carriages will save them generations before they yield to the elements, but never, to wear. They have not been used for 10 years.

Former Owners

Three, with several others, were used by J. J. Hunsman, 305 North Main st., in funeral processions, and were three of the last to be used here. A minister's coupe, a pull-behind wagon and three other hacks of the same type are better preserved in a barn. They too are useless in this modern era of motor transportation.

The interior of the hacks, with silken finish, was complete. The floor mats, the beautifully finished top with the quilt effect design, and the close fitting doors and windows were almost perfect. A long heavy tongue has held itself straight during all the years of inactivity in spite of the exposure to rain and sun. The glass on the cabs was of the best quality, and is rarely equalled in modern coachwork. The driver held an official position on top of the cab, but paid dearly for his prominent location when there was rain or snowfall.

All of the hacks have rubber tires, not pneumatic, but nevertheless a reducer of noise and small bumps. The spokes of the large wheels are made of the finest grade of hickory, and the springs, after which modern automobile springs are fashioned, are of the finest steel.

Points of Similarity

In two respects they were similar to the modern automobile. They required greasing, and washing. The jet black finish and metal trimmings would fairly sparkle when a row of these hacks was in a funeral procession over Marion streets. In funerals of more than ordinary importance, undertakers would exchange the use of their cabs.

Some of the more luxurious hacks cost in the neighborhood of $1,000. Today they are worth what the spare glass will market for on the junkyard.

COOPER DISPOSES OF 47 MORE MEASURES

Leaves 19 Bills To Be Acted on Before Saturday Midnight Deadline

COLUMBUS, April 26—After disposing of 47 additional legislative measures by vetoing 10 and approving 37, Gov. Myers Y. Cooper today had before him 19 bills to be acted upon before the 10-day time limit expires at midnight Saturday.

Announcement today that the governor had blue-pencilled 10 measures raised the total number of bills vetoed by Governor Cooper to 22.

Measures vetoed by Governor Cooper included:

The Boulder bill, providing state regulations for private employment agencies.

The Gillen bill, giving county commissioners the right to assume assessor's duties on shuffling property for state road purposes.

The Emory bill, classifying as wholesale dealer, persons, or firms, selling in quantities of more than three dozen lots.

Must Give Notice

The Vail bill, requiring that, as a condition to bringing an action against a municipality, a person injured because of defective street must give notice to the municipality within 120 days after the accident happens.

The Heber bill, amending the state inheritance tax law by providing for taxation of certain intangible properties, including stocks held by non-residents in Ohio corporations.

The Ackerman bill, increasing salaries of guards at Ohio penitentiary, the Mansfield State reformatory, the Loudon prison farm and the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster.

The Marlon bill, increasing from three months to six months the time in which tax-exempt users of gasoline may file applications for refunds of the state gasoline tax.

The Stone bill, authorizing superintendents of county homes and institutions to permit husband and wife, as inmates of such an institution, to occupy the same room.

The Ingalls bill, reducing from four to two years the time in which foreclosure proceedings can be instituted against tax-delinquent real estate.

Among Those Approved

The Lear bill, authorizing county commissioners to use part of the state gasoline tax in erecting safeguards at grade crossings.

Bills approved by Governor Cooper include:

The Johnson bill, increasing state compensation to owners of tubercular cattle condemned for slaughter. The state to pay $35 for grade cows and $70 for pure breeds, the federal govern-

The Wendt bill, abolishing examinations for assistant pharmacists.

The Mrs. Van Wyk bill, abolishing the necessity for transmission by county auditors of personal property tax lists to the state auditor.

The Sharp bill, making the open season on squirrels from Sept. 15 to Oct. 1 each year.

ALLIANCE MAN, WOUNDED BY REBELS, BACK HOME

ALLIANCE, April 26—Home again after receiving a shrapnel wound in the head when the town of Naco, Arizona, was bombed this month by Mexican rebels, Harry Baker, 22, is today awaiting a $2,500 check, which the rebels agreed to send him by June 10, as remuneration for his injury.

Baker, who was employed by a New York photographer, was racing to the scene of the bombing when he was injured.

WOMAN AWARDED $1,500 IN SUIT AGAINST DOCTOR

NEW PHILADELPHIA, April 26—Common pleas court had today awarded $1,500 to Mrs. Margaret Liles of Lorain, Ohio, in settlement of her $10,000 suit against Dr. J. F. Doubtitt, Lorain physician, for injuries suffered when she was shot in the shoulder by the doctor last Oct. 3. An indictment, charging shooting with intent to kill, was requested nolle by Mrs. Liles.

Dr. Doubtitt shot Mrs. Liles during a quarrel with the woman, her husband and parents.

Labor Leader Booked

GREEN ON SUNDAY PROGRAM

For Talk Over Radio

BY MAX L. ROY
WILLIAM GREEN, president of the American Federation of Labor, will explain his organization's viewpoint on current labor problems to a national radio audience Sunday when he appears as guest speaker on the hour 7-8 P.M. program of the WJZ network of the NBC system at 7 P.M. on Sunday.

When Samuel Gompers died in 1924, William Green's quarter century of service to the United Mine Workers of America made him a logical candidate for the presidency of the American Federation of Labor. In addition to his activities as a leader of organized labor, Green has served two terms in the Ohio state senate and has been a delegate to national political conventions.

His bill will be the principal feature in a program of dramatized short stories and orchestra music.

Practically all programs will be received in Marion an hour earlier than in the case during the winter months.

It is suggested that radio listeners starting Sunday check up on the radio programs appearing elsewhere on this page. The time quoted in eastern standard time, allows for having been made for the hour difference that will exist between Marion and New York time.

RELIGIOUS WORKS IN CATHEDRAL HOUR
Religious works by Sir Arthur Sullivan will be featured on the program that the Cathedral hour will present at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon over the Columbia Broadcasting System.

OLSEN AND ORLINSKY APPEAR OVER RADIO

WTAM 50,000-WATT REQUEST IS GRANTED

Cleveland Radio Station Will Erect Powerful New Transmitter

CELESTIAL April 26—WTAM's application for use of superpower on a remote site was approved late yesterday by the Federal Radio Commission.

A 20-acre site in Lucasville town ship near the Lucasville county line has been optioned and work there will start immediately.

One of a new 50,000 watt transmitter to replace the much smaller unit in use is the subject of a contract now being negotiated.

Time required to construct the new station, which is estimated at four months, is about $750,000.

Studios are to remain in the Lucasville Annex. Transmitters, quarters on the twelfth floor of the Lucasville building will be abandoned when the remote installation is finished.

First Year Co-eds Have Most Dates Survey Shows

Marion Star Bureau
Ohio State University

COLUMBUS, O., April 26—Freshman women are the social "bugs" among the co-eds at Ohio State university.

Members of the first year class at Ohio's largest educational institution actually have more dates and go to more dances than do girls of any other class.

They go out 90 per cent of the nights during a school term or an average of 1 out of 10 nights. The percentage is far above the average for any one of the three other classes at the university.

These figures were brought out in a survey of the signing out cards of the university co-eds taken over a period of several months.

The survey was conducted for 100 girls in the university's sorority houses and dining halls and the social activities of the freshmen class were found to be more active than for other students in the school.

The average sophomore, junior and senior co-eds seem to be more active—less popular—and only go out about half of the nights during the term as the survey reveals.

The Ohio State co-eds of any class go to the library—sometimes it was found that the girls about half as much as the library as the girls at the other schools.

It was noted that the freshmen girls go to the library at least as often as the freshmen women.

Extra-curricular activities claim the day time hours and not the nights at Ohio State. Lectures, contests and plays on the university campus are apparently cut of reach of the co-eds.

Long Reveals How Calvin Coolidge Handed in His First Manuscript

Former President Told Editor That He Was Not Bound To Take Story

By DAVID P. SENTNER
(Copyright, 1929, by International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 25.—"I've written a piece," quietly said President Calvin Coolidge. He handed the manuscript to Mr. Long, magazine editor. This was on Jan. 23, 1929, one year and one half after the first suggestion to Mr. Coolidge that he write the story of his six years in the White House.

New reflections of the Coolidge character are revealed in the negotiations which resulted in an important contribution to national as well as publishing history. Tells Story.

Long was prevailed upon to tell the story of the negotiations. Upon receiving the manuscript from President Coolidge, the fiscal agreement was signed. The fiscal took place in the White House executive office.

"You go in and read this," said President Coolidge, tapping his manuscript. "And if you are not satisfied, there is nothing that binds you to take it." "I planned at the manuscript," related Long. "And then I knew it was one of those pieces which an editor dreams of running across some day.

"Mr. Coolidge insisted upon protecting his successor. He said, 'This must not be published until after Mr. Hoover is inaugurated.'"

"Do you care to reveal how much Mr. Coolidge received from your magazine for his writings?" I asked.

Long asserted that, in his opinion, Mr. Coolidge was normally interested in the financial returns to accrue from his writings but he was more interested in getting his story before the public.

"Mr. Coolidge was interested in a fair price," said Long. "But my guess is that he wanted to talk to the people as a president being after having been president six years."

Curiously enough, Long received his inspiration to urge President Coolidge to write his autobiography following the information via Herbert Hoover, then Secretary of Commerce, that the president was not a candidate for re-election.

Start On Trail
"A group gathered with Mr. Hoover at Bohemian Grove, outside of San Francisco, on August 27, 1927," said Long. "In addition to Mr. Hoover and myself, there were George Barr, Baker, Pete Kyne, C. G. Norris and George Erickson."

"Following a telephone call to Mr. Hoover from the Summer White House, Mr. Erickson (his secretary), announced to us: 'He does not want to run again.'"

"That started me on the trail of President Coolidge," said Long. "As soon as he returned to Washington I broached the writing subject at an appointment.

"I won't publish anything until I am out of office," Mr. Coolidge told me. I visited him every two months or so thereafter but he would never say 'yes' or 'no' but simply repeat his first statement. But we became excellent friends, and I found out that the President was a real human being.

"And until Mr. Coolidge handed me the finished manuscript last January, I never knew what he was going to do."

Long is the editor of Cosmopolitan in which Calvin Coolidge's own story, "On Entering and Leaving the Presidency" is appearing in installments.

ORDER $10,000 FOR MANSFIELD AIRPORT

Neighboring City Hopes To Place Landing Field in Shape During Summer

MANSFIELD, April 25.—City councilmen have appropriated $10,000 to carry on the improvement of the municipal airport. An emergency measure setting forth this appropriation was passed by an unanimous vote of the councilmen present. The appropriation had been asked by the newly created Municipal Airport board in order to place the aviation field in shape for activity this summer.

In conjunction with the appropriation, council adopted a resolution authorizing Fred B. Wolf, service-unit director to employ a surveyor who will be in charge of grading and drainage work at the airport. Council fixed the amount for this purpose at $600, this sum having been supplied by the airport board. The $600

will come from the $10,000 airport fund.

Work To Go Ahead

With the necessary funds now appropriated, the airport board, which consists of Alex Tappan, John Deery, Charles Harlan and the service-unit director, is now in position to work at the field, attending to station activity here this summer. T. C. Jenkins, superintendent of the Ohio State reformatory, has consented to allow prisoners from the institution to work at the field, attending to seeding, grading and other necessary construction items. A small fee is to be charged for this labor, to allow employment of extra guard while the work is being completed, councilmen were told.

In Complete Charge

The surveyor to be employed by the service director will be in charge of the construction work. It is announced. Although considerable work has been done at the airport since the ground was purchased, there still remains a large number of improvements to be made before the field will be in suitable condition for landing planes. It is pointed out.

ing, told the city fathers that when the field is completed it is likely that within a short time revenue will start coming in from various sources. The airport board will establish a policy for operation of the field with council having a voice in approving or rejecting proposed plans.

Long may be blind, but small brothers see everything in sight.

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN OUT FOR FIELD MEET

Contestants in First Boys' Week Event Told To Have Entry Blanks Ready

Carl May, boys' work secretary of the Marion Y. M. C. A., announced this morning that all boys planning to enter any of the events in the elementary grade school track and field meet to be held Saturday afternoon at the playgrounds starting at 1 o'clock, should have their entry blanks with them at the meet. This meet will be for the Walters-Powers trophy and is the first event of National Boys' week to be celebrated in this city from April 27 to May 1, inclusive.

Five events are listed on the program for the meet, which is open to all eighth grade students in the city. One student may enter only one event in addition to the relay. In the relay, the start of each entry every contestant must show his entry blank, which must be signed by his teacher. These students who have not secured entry blanks yet may do so up until 8 o'clock tonight at the Y.

Tonight at 9 o'clock is also the deadline on the essays on "Why I Love Dogs." These essays must be limited to 300 words and any boy in the city is eligible to compete for the prize, a Wrentham Kennel $50 dog. At the present time four essays have been handed in.

AUCTION SALE OF HOUSE ANNOUNCED

W. Center St. Site To Be Cleared For New Building, Is Report

The large frame dwelling on West Center st., immediately east of the building in which the Logan Gas Co. office and Blake's florist shop are located, will be sold at auction next week, it is announced today by R. T. Lewis, local real estate dealer. The Arden Shop is now located in the building.

Date for the sale will be announced later, Lewis stated.

Although no definite statements have been made it is understood that the old residence is being sold to make way for a new building.

BRIDE SAILS ALONE

Guggenheim Helms' Young Husband Remains in U. S.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Natalie Helms Guggenheim, 18-year-old heiress to millions who was recently wed to Thomas M. Guggenheim, 30-year New York realtor, sailed on a belated honeymoon to Europe early today—alone.

The bride of two weeks was alone, accompanied by a maid, when she boarded the Berengaria for a six-months' visit to England and the continent, although her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund A. Guggenheim, prominent in social circles, accompanied her.

Her handmaiden, however, son of a railroad station master, did not. Guggenheim is remaining here, he said, to build a home for his wife which will be ready when the Guggenheims return.

PROGRAM ARRANGED

Plans for a program meeting in observance of Mothers' day, May 12, were made last night at a meeting of the Marion Lodge No. 32, B. P. O. Elks. Two candidates were balloted and one reinstatement accepted. Following the meeting, luncheon was served.

BETTING SYSTEM TO BE AIRED BY COURT

Race Meeting at Ravenna Continues Pending Decision

RAVENNA, April 26.—The Ravenna race meeting, now under way, is safe from official prohibition pending a decision of the court of appeals on the contribution system of betting in vogue here now. The decision will be based on the report yesterday of Ed Bates, assistant at a track betting booth.

County Prosecutor Everett L. Potts believes the contribution system is illegal but announced his willingness to let the matter go before the court of appeals before taking further action.

Bates was arraigned before Justice of the Peace H. W. Campbell, pleaded not guilty and was released under $500 bail. The charge was "keeping a room with apparatus and books for recording wagers or selling pools on the result of a contest of speed between horses."

OFFICER CONDUCTS ANNUAL INSPECTION

Major-General Hahn Attends Meeting of Local Patriarchs Militant

Canton Marion No. 60, Patriarchs Militant, was given its annual inspection at a special meeting last night by Major-General Fred Hahn, of Toledo, who is on his annual tour of inspection. General Hahn gave the local Canton a favorable report and commended it on its progress during the past year.

Canton Marion gave a 4 o'clock dinner in honor of General Hahn in the Odd Fellows hall, which was followed by General Hahn's address to the members. After he had talked to the Canton he addressed the members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Patriarchs Militant on the work of the auxiliary throughout the country.

T. L. Bolander, captain of Canton Marion, was in charge of the meeting and introduced General Hahn.

NO BIDS RECEIVED ON PACKING PLANT

Reappraisal May Be Necessary To Effect Sale of Property

The plant of the Marion Packing Co. failed to sell yesterday when offered at public auction. There were no bids.

The plant was offered for sale by H. B. Hane, receiver for the company. The property was appraised at $100,000 and to sell a price of $70,000 would have been necessary.

The next move in the effort to dispose of the property will depend on action of the common pleas court. Mr. Hane said today. A reappraisal may be made in order that the property may again be put up for sale. The packing plant has been in the hands of the receiver about two years.

HOLD GUEST DAY

Church Luncheon Served by Aid Society Circle

A church luncheon was served to 50 members and guests of Circle No. 7, Ladies Aid society, Epworth M. E. church, at the first annual guest day party of the circle, yesterday. Dr. B. L. Lavenex, "Christina," Mrs. Emil Sweeney, "Jillian," Mrs. Norris Grubinger, "Priscilla." The entertainment closed with the singing of "God Will Take Care of You."

Mrs. Homer Wadwell, Mrs. W. O. Nipper, Mrs. G. W. Hinson, Mrs. A. N. Geimes, Mrs. D. H. Harvey and Mrs. B. L. George were a committee in charge of the luncheon and program. The luncheon tables were covered with spring flowers. A regular meeting will be held May 22 with Mrs. C. C. Miller, Girard av.

JAIL FOR SINCLAIR

On Magnate Will Stay Term Between May 5 and 9

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Harry P. Sinclair will go to the smeltering district workhouse at Des Moines, Va., in to the coal district jail, some time between May 5 and 9, it appeared certain today.

The multi-millionaire oil magnate, sentenced to serve 90 days for contempt of the senate for refusing to answer questions relative to the famous Teapot Dome leases, already has made arrangements to bring his family to the city.

OLD GREEN RIVER? This Man Was Making His Stuff on Houseboat

LINCOLN, April 26.—Manufacturing liquor on a houseboat in the Ohio river cost Samuel Mann of East Liverpool, a sentence of from one to five years in the Ohio State penitentiary and a fine of $200. The man pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced by Judge W. F. Lewis here today.

CLEVELAND JOINTS RAIDED BY POLICE

Continue Reprisals for Bombings; Axes and Crowbars Used in Raids

CLEVELAND, April 26.—Armed with axes and crowbars, police here today continued their "mopping up" campaign, launching in reprisal for the bombings, Wednesday, at the home of Capt. W. A. McMaster and the former home of Sgt. Patrick J. Holman, allegedly by bootleggers.

Early today the raiding police left a trail of ruin in half a dozen speakeasies and "joints." Bars, mirrors, cash registers, phonographs and radios were reduced to splintered wreckage, furniture was wrecked and bottles of bottles of alleged beer and whisky were smashed. Besides the six places which were wrecked, 11 others were closed by the raiding squads and 80 men and women were arrested on liquor law charges.

The raids had another effect. The city was closed by their proprietors without the formality of a police call and their houses and businesses started on secluded vacations.

Cleveland is more arid today than at any time since the Volstead law went into effect, police say.

RETURNS ACQUITTAL IN PATRONAGE CASE

Mississippi Federal Grand Jury Fails To Convict Negro Politician

MERIDIAN, Miss., April 26.—A federal grand jury today voted the acquittal of Perry Howard, Republican negro national committeeman of Mississippi, and his two codefendants in the famous Mississippi patronage case.

At the same time the jury confirmed the acquittal of Ed L. Patton, Jackson political ally of Howard, in the same case. The jury had been instructed to do this in Patton's case due to insufficient evidence.

Howard's codefendants were James G. Buchanan, former U. S. marshal for southern Mississippi, and George T. McClelland, former Newton postmaster, jointly charged with having conspired to violate the federal act prohibiting the giving or receiving of reward in connection with federal appointments.

Entry List for Dog Parade Is Now Open at Y. M. C. A.

Is Now Open at Y. M. C. A.

A LL dog boys for the big dog parade a week from tomorrow? If you haven't your entry blank, take the one printed below and submit it to Carl May at the Marion Y. M. C. A. in one of its hurry. This parade is an added feature of National Boys' Week celebration to be held in Marion starting Saturday and lasting one week.

The parade, which is the last feature of the week, will start about 2 o'clock this afternoon and go west on Church st. from the "Y" to Garden st. and then east on Center st. and back to the "Y."

If you're lucky enough to win either first or second place in the parade you will receive a fine gift!

prize is a dog harness and second prize is a dog collar.

Basis of Awards

Mr. May wants you to remember that this is not a dog show but a dog parade and the prizes will not be given to the boy who has the best looking dog but to the boy and dog who, in the opinion of the judges, best typify the American boy and his dog.

Remember that the dog must be in leash and be led by the boy. If you have anything that looks like a mewler of the canine race get him out and enter the parade.

Saturday afternoon, May 4, is the date and the Marion Y. M. C. A. is the place. That's the date on which everybody will be "going to the dogs."

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, April 26.—The Graf Zeppelin, master liner of the air, reported to her hangar today after a three-day cruise over France, Spain, Portugal and Morocco to Funchal, Madeira and back while mechanicians began to groom her for her next extended flight, which will probably be across the Atlantic about May 12.

All 19 passengers who made the trip, including a woman of 70, enthusiastically praised the comfort of the air liner and the handling of the ship by Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander.

RECEIVES EMBLEMS

Father's Lodge Jewels Presented to Bennett Hindley at Elks Meeting

An interesting feature of the initiation of a class of candidates into Marion Lodge No. 32, Independent and Protective Order of Elks, last night followed the regular initiation work. Bennett Hindley, East Center st. was in the class and following the work, was presented a jeweled Elks pin, an Elks' tooth and a gold cane case, by E. H. Higgins, secretary of the lodge.

These emblems of the lodge belonged to Joseph Hindley, father of Bennett, and on his death were given to Mr. Higgins for safekeeping until his son should go into the order.

Mr. Higgins received both Joseph Hindley's and his son's applications for membership in the lodge. A short talk of explanation of the gift was given by Mr. Higgins, after which Mr. Hindley and a few friends in appreciation of the emblems, both of their worth as emblems of the lodge and as having belonged to his father.

Plans were made for a noon dinner May 3 at the church, to be served at a group conference of Methodist ministers. Lunch was served by the hostesses.

GOOD HENS PAY BIG PROFITS

In a statement recently issued by the Lelay Poultry Farms, the difference between good poultry and poor poultry is very strikingly shown. Where birds produced 100 eggs, the profit per bird is shown to be in the neighborhood of only $1.00. Where 150 eggs per bird were produced the profit was shown to be $5.00.

The production which is shown by a hen is to a large extent hereditary. In other words, the hen that produced 150 eggs per year does so because she comes from ancestry of that type.

Chicks from Lelay Poultry Farms are of this high production quality which in turn means the $5.00 per bird profit. Full details can be secured by calling or writing to Lelay Poultry Farms, Delaware, or 23 W. Duaneen Street, Columbus, Ohio.—Ady.

DETROIT IS SHAKEN BY FIVE EXPLOSIONS

No One Injured as Underground Blasts Hurl Covers into Air

DETROIT, April 26.—Five underground blasts which hurled manhole covers into the air and spattered flames like miniature volcanoes, rocked East Side Detroit today breaking windows and endangering hundreds of homes.

It was believed the blasts were caused from an underground short circuit.

Volumes of smoke which followed the explosions poured gas and tar fumes over the area.

Although the blasts sent hundreds of families streaming from their homes to learn the cause of the explosions, no one was reported injured.

Police and fire department squads were rushed to the scene. It was feared that the blasts might hurl bricks from the pavements and cause serious damage.

WOMAN KILLED

Body of Auto Accident Victim Not Found Until Today

HAMILTON, April 26.—Miss Josephine Kelly, 22, of Morrow, O., was killed, and E. F. Evans, 29, Cincinnati, was injured when the auto in which they were riding struck a culvert and overturned on a road near here last night.

The victims were not found until today.

Miss Kelly is believed to have been instantly killed. Evans was trapped under the car, and unable to call for assistance.

MEETING AT CHURCH

Program Given by Members of Anna McWilliams Class

Members of the Anna McWilliams class of Trinity Baptist church met yesterday afternoon in the church parlors for a regular meeting. A song, "Rock of Ages," and a reading of the twenty-ninth Psalm by Mrs. David Morral, president of the class, opened the meeting. Prayer was offered by Mrs. A. S. Keeler, followed by another song, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee." Mrs. Mildred Lewis was in charge of the program which opened with a reading "The Power of Grace," by Mrs. Millie Tschannen. The following readings were given: biography of Edgar A. Guest, by Mrs. Leah Krause, "The Enduring Things," by Mrs. M. L. Ulom, "Meditating," Mrs. Samuel E. Ely, "The Influence of Small Things," Mrs. Morral, "The Goodness According to You," Mrs. C. B. Smith, "The Careful of What You Say," Mrs. J. V. VanMeter. The program was concluded with the reading of the twenty-third Psalm. Refreshments were served by a committee including Mrs. W. W. Kerr, Mrs. Agnes Stewart and Mrs. Tschannen.

Entry List for Dog Parade Is Now Open at Y. M. C. A.

Is Now Open at Y. M. C. A.

A LL dog boys for the big dog parade a week from tomorrow? If you haven't your entry blank, take the one printed below and submit it to Carl May at the Marion Y. M. C. A. in one of its hurry. This parade is an added feature of National Boys' Week celebration to be held in Marion starting Saturday and lasting one week.

The parade, which is the last feature of the week, will start about 2 o'clock this afternoon and go west on Church st. from the "Y" to Garden st. and then east on Center st. and back to the "Y."

If you're lucky enough to win either first or second place in the parade you will receive a fine gift!

prize is a dog harness and second prize is a dog collar.

Basis of Awards

Mr. May wants you to remember that this is not a dog show but a dog parade and the prizes will not be given to the boy who has the best looking dog but to the boy and dog who, in the opinion of the judges, best typify the American boy and his dog.

Remember that the dog must be in leash and be led by the boy. If you have anything that looks like a mewler of the canine race get him out and enter the parade.

Saturday afternoon, May 4, is the date and the Marion Y. M. C. A. is the place. That's the date on which everybody will be "going to the dogs."

BOYS' WEEK PARADE COUPON

Father's Lodge Jewels Presented to Bennett Hindley at Elks Meeting

An interesting feature of the initiation of a class of candidates into Marion Lodge No. 32, Independent and Protective Order of Elks, last night followed the regular initiation work. Bennett Hindley, East Center st. was in the class and following the work, was presented a jeweled Elks pin, an Elks' tooth and a gold cane case, by E. H. Higgins, secretary of the lodge.

These emblems of the lodge belonged to Joseph Hindley, father of Bennett, and on his death were given to Mr. Higgins for safekeeping until his son should go into the order.

Mr. Higgins received both Joseph Hindley's and his son's applications for membership in the lodge. A short talk of explanation of the gift was given by Mr. Higgins, after which Mr. Hindley and a few friends in appreciation of the emblems, both of their worth as emblems of the lodge and as having belonged to his father.

Princess of Pless Publishes Memoirs

KINGS and queens, prime ministers, generals and royal highnesses pass across the pages of an entertaining volume of memoirs by Daisy, Princess of Pless, being Curlew-West, poor, pretty and very well born, and from her childhood to the society of English royalty, was little more than a child when she married "pomposus Hans," Prince of Pless, and went to reside over more than one immense estate, where were "acres of terraces and gardens" but not a single bathroom. She had been obliged to economize on shoes and gloves; now she had to furnish a rope of pearls seven yards long and other magnificent discomforts to match.

A lively picture of pre-war society both in Germany and England make the book worth while; but its most interesting part is the picture of the Kaiser, which the author paints, in his moments of bravado, shaking his mailed fist in the face of the English, and again in his time of self-pity when he believes himself so thoroughly misunderstood. The author insists it was brought about the great World War rather than the Emperor, who she claims was the merest pawn, and far from being the all-powerful.

Inspection of Equipment at Palace Theater Reveals Answer to Question, "What Makes the Talkies Talk?"

Familiar Scientific Principles Employed to Make Picture-Sound Combination

BY HARRY R. McILROY
Marion Star Staff Writer

A CHILD'S curiosity that is often thwarted by the fact that the wheels of sound are nothing compared to the antiquity of the older folks are at play in the new art recently introduced in Marion. The element of mystery that surrounds an exceedingly intricate invention never fails to bring forth speculation as to how it works. And so it is with the new art that is sweeping the motion picture industry. When the subject of the tinkering pictures is brought up it is a safe bet that the discussion will turn to "What makes the talkies talk?"

Since the motion pictures were first developed it had been the dream of countless numbers of inventors to add voice and sound effects to the hitherto silent drama. But in recent years there has been a break in the experimental laboratory. The popularity of the talkies has increased so rapidly that there are few cities that are not equipped for sound or are not considering the addition of the proper equipment for its use.

Work Out Combination
A great many familiar scientific principles were combined by inventors to produce the successful talking picture. It seemed to be the great problem to get the voice synchronized with the pictures and after that was successfully solved the first talking pictures appeared.

Three different systems of recording sound are the most common in practice today. These systems require two entirely different methods for reproduction.

The three common systems of the talking picture can be placed in two classes. One using a disc, similar to the phonograph record and the other by light waves recorded on a narrow ribbon of the standard motion picture film. Vitaphone, one of the earliest forms of talking pictures, appears in the new field several years ago utilizing the phonograph principle. The Movietone and the RCA Photophone are the two common types of sound recorded on film.

Equipment at Palace
After looking over the new equipment installed at the Palace Theater and interviewing the two operators on the subject the writer attempts to answer in a simple way the question "What makes the talkies talk?"

The equipment used at the Palace can be classed as the projection machine for showing motion pictures, the sound pickup, the amplifier and the loudspeakers or horns from which the sound emerges to offer the finished product to theatergoers.

The motion picture is understood by most people. It is a series of stills or snap-shots depending upon an optical illusion to give them apparent motion.

In telling how the talking works the writer will take up each of the different operations describing first how sound is recorded.

In the Vitaphone a large record—10 inches in diameter—carries the voice and music recorded mechanically. The sound appears in a series of waves in a spiral around the record. These are practically the same as those appearing on the phonograph record.

Method of Operation

In operation the record is placed on a table revolving in synchronism with the film. Differing from the phonograph the pick-up device or reproducer is placed on the inside groove of the record. The record revolves in the opposite way from the phonograph record and just half as fast. The reproducer common to many radio receiving sets is known as an electrical pick-up. Its function is to transfer the mechanical recording of the voice on the record into electrical impulses.

When the film (carrying the pictures) is threaded into the projector it is placed at a certain point marked start. The pick-up is placed in a marked groove on the record. When the machine is started this insures the voice being reproduced at the same time the principles of the picture appear.

The Movietone film method of recording is called that of variable density. At the studio where the sound pictures are taken the voice is picked up by a microphone far more sensitive than the transmitter on the telephone in your home or office. This microphone changes the sound waves into electrical impulses that are later changed into light waves and photographed on the narrow border length of the film. These photographic impressions of the voice extend across the entire area of horizontal line of varying in the degree of transparency.

The RCA Photophone uses the variable area method with the sound waves or recording recorded vertically along the sound channel. To the writer the photograph record of the sound wave looked like the teeth of a saw placed lengthwise along the edge of the film. The value of the light reaching the photo-electric cell is changed by the saw teeth varying the area of the channel the light cutting down the amount of light allowed to strike the sensitive elements of the cell. Hence the name "variable area."

After the photographic or mechanical record of sound is converted into electrical impulses the remainder of the operations can be easily understood as the principles of the radio utilized.

The electrical impulses are passed through a series of power amplifiers similar to those on a radio set, only constructed to produce a greater volume of sound. After being amplified to the proper strength the electrical waves then pass through two loudspeakers to be transformed into sound waves.

Location of Loudspeakers

In the Palace Theater these two loudspeakers are in the impression of a hall by many theatergoers are placed directly behind the screen.

The screen itself is porous to permit the sound to enter the auditorium unobstructed.

Ralph Smith and Herman J. Seckel are the operators in the projection room at the Palace. They are the only operators in Marion at the present time able to handle sound

In turning the photographic picture of the voice back to sound the procedure of recording is reversed. A narrow ray of light is focused on the sound channel and passes to a photo-electric cell to be turned into electrical waves. As these lines pass between the light and the photo-electric cell the varying degrees of density cause a feeble electric current to be set up in the photo-electric cell. This is then amplified before going to a large amplifier, panel "A," which of constant density shining on the photo-electric cell does not produce any current but as soon as there is a sudden change in the light value a feeble current is set up and channel into sound.

Photophone Plan

The RCA Photophone has been said before uses the light film method of recording. It is somewhat different than the Movietone in the method in which the sound waves appear in the channel although the method of reproduction remains the same.

The Photophone uses the variable area method with the sound waves or recording recorded vertically along the sound channel. To the writer the photograph record of the sound wave looked like the teeth of a saw placed lengthwise along the edge of the film. The value of the light reaching the photo-electric cell is changed by the saw teeth varying the area of the channel the light cutting down the amount of light allowed to strike the sensitive elements of the cell. Hence the name "variable area."

After the photographic or mechanical record of sound is converted into electrical impulses the remainder of the operations can be easily understood as the principles of the radio utilized.

The electrical impulses are passed through a series of power amplifiers similar to those on a radio set, only constructed to produce a greater volume of sound. After being amplified to the proper strength the electrical waves then pass through two loudspeakers to be transformed into sound waves.

Newspaper Man Explains Mystery of Latest Innovation in Movies

These two men formerly run the silent projectors at the Marion and Grand theaters. Several months ago when the success of the talkies seemed assured they started studying sound and the operation of the recording machines.

Their work consists of keeping the equipment in proper condition keeping the sound synchronized with the pictures and regulating the volume in proportion to the size of the auditorium. A small loudspeaker in the projection booth tells them whether or not their equipment is functioning properly while a lookout in the auditorium advises them whether the sound is too loud or too soft.

Talking pictures like the old silent pictures are not fool proof. The greatest trouble experienced is with the film breaking. In the case of the film recorded talkies it is easy enough to connect the two broken ends and continue the show without having to worry about the synchronization. With the disc system it is quite difficult to make the sound and the track match up when the film is once again seen.

Charles II frames—all hand-carved—match in beauty the magnificent fabrics of this distinguished group. Never was furniture better equipped to give life-long comfort than in this with its genuine Karpenque spring completely embedded in soft new cotton and curled hair—soft as down. All the pieces are available in mohair damask or tapestry. Specially priced this week the sofa and any one of the three chairs illustrated.

One of the reasons for the success of our Karpen Week exhibits is the offering of such fine productions as these, at moderate prices. The group shown, which permits a choice of the chair, adds the maximum of modern comfort to the splendor of an old English design. One recognizes it as the kind of furniture with which beautiful interiors are achieved. See its rich colors, its lovely fabrics, and its harmonious patterns for yourself; sink down into the soft luxurious depth of any of the pieces; then decide if you would like this group—or one of the many others in our Karpen display.

NURMI SEEKS NEW RECORD IN SPECIAL EVENT AT RELAYS

George Simpson, Ohio State, Shares Interest with Finn at Philadelphia

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 26.—Paavo Nurmi, the college man from the Bronx, will die for dear old Ohio State in a special two mile race at the annual Pennsylvania two-day relay carnival today, while 3,200 earnest athletes pressed to run around the rain-soaked grounds until reason totters on its hinges.

All points on the compass were assembled at the zone for the 48 hours of competitive madness, the natives from Wisconsin, Ohio State, Michigan State, Chicago and Indiana in the middle west; Panhandle academy in far off Hawaii; Georgia Tech in the south; Oklahoma in the south west and, of course, from virtually the entire east.

Ohio State will show the latest sensation of the track world, George Simpson, both today and tomorrow. Simpson was clocked in world's record time for the century and furlong dashes no longer ago than Saturday last. Heilinger and Churchill, members of the last Olympic team, since they are presumed to be a composite of Jim Thorpe and Osborn while combining the best features of both.

They are expected to topple the carnival record of 7,236.5575 points due to the excitement, as Churchill won the Kansas relay title last Saturday with more than 7,400 points and Heilinger spread-eagled his event at the Illinois relay last winter. Leo Korman, Georgetown, and Robert L. Todd, Indiana, also are highly fancied in this event and, if the competition proves sufficiently raucous, Paavo Nurmi's national record of 7,514.42 might go down in the ruins.

Nurmi, the one-man traveling tent show, will go after the American outdoor record for two miles, 2:17 4-5, made by Tell Berna some 16 years ago. He also has declared for best-of-wide's world record of 9:01 2-3.

but—the old, trim stanks, they ain't what they used to be. Tomorrow Nurmi will operate on his own three mile record, if possible. Next week, East Lynde.

The Finn is thought to have a better chance at the records for longer distances and so his first appearance on an American outdoor track in four years may not be without its record. Whatever he does tomorrow, however, he will have to share honors with Sturdy, the 14-foot pole vaulter. Simpson, the 9 5-10 sprinter; Leo Korman, the 4-13 mile who will try for a new American record at the distance and a great field in general.

Today, he virtually has the stage alone, except for the all-around event. Simpson will run this afternoon but only in the 149 yard relay championship, which with the cooperation of Howard Kries, ought to go to Ohio State. The rest of the good ones are good, indeed, but they are not yet ready to out-Nurmi, even the slightly spavined Nurmi of today.

THE WEATHER

Fair tonight and probably Saturday. Somewhat warmer Saturday.

RELAYS START

400 Athletics Represent 31 Schools at Defiance Meet
DEFIANCE, April 26.—More than 400 athletes representing 31 high schools in Ohio and Michigan arrived here today to compete in the second annual Defiance college interscholastic relays, which will open here today and continue through tomorrow.

The entry list shows 15 Class A schools and 16 Class B are entered. This list is smaller this year as compared with the 37 schools which fought it out here last year, but the quality is superior, according to officials.

HUDLIN GOES FULL ROUTE FOR INDANS

Tigers Score in First, Fifth Innings To Win, 5 to 0

The tribe had one chance to score in yesterday's game. That was in the second when the bases were filled with one out. Yde got L. Sewell and Hudlin on easy chances.

Cincinnati's Reds who have been languishing in St. Louis, trying hard to avenge the Cards' home season, were routed out for the second straight day. Yesterday's postgame will be played as part of a double header on May 28. This will make five games in three days that the Reds will have to play with the Cards on their next visit to St. Louis. The

DENY EVACUATION

Mexican Rebels Deny Federal Statements of Retreat
MEXICO, April 26.—Positive denials were made at rebel headquarters here today that the army under Gen. Pascual Tapeto had evacuated Mazatlan and was retreating north toward Navarero.

Y. M. Vasquez, Mexican consul at Nogales, Ariz., stated he had received advice from Mexico City saying that General Cardenas reported the government forces had occupied Mazatlan without firing a shot. The federal general also reported, according to Vasquez, that federal bands had slipped behind the rebel lines and burned railroad bridges, in an attempt to check the rebel retreat.

If You Are "From Missouri"

Stop at Tender's and you will be convinced that when thousands of satisfied customers say "It was simply marvelous," and that "I've never tasted such good food and drink for I don't know where," it is really. The sodas served there are positively the best that money can buy; rich, delicious, satisfying. Even the Coca Cola and other phosphate drinks are superlative—full of pep, ice cold, quenching that thirst and satisfying you to boot. Their Ice Cream—there is no question about it being the best in the City, and a taste will tell the tale. But when it comes to Lunches; My what difference between those served there and the ordinary restaurant or lunch room lunches. They are simply like the genuine, or that somewhere that the Ancient Wabash Greeks were seeing their Gods fed. You owe it to yourself to try them and be convinced.

Here is a chance for you to try some almost gratis.

FLAVOR

That's why Kellogg's Corn Flakes are the world's largest-selling ready-to-eat cereal. They have the original flavor and crispness Kellogg discovered and nobody else has ever been able to equal. Enjoy them at home—in hotels, restaurants, on diners.

Kellogg's Corn Flakes are always light and extra crisp. A wholesome treat for children—so easy to digest. 12,000,000 people each day prefer Kellogg's... the genuine and original Corn Flakes. It always pays to look for the red-and-green Kellogg package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Kellogg's
CORN FLAKES

Rugged, Happy Boyhood

—joyously alive in every muscle, eager for the coming of each new day with the experiences it brings! That's the way with the well-nourished youngster—the child who gets plenty of hearty, satisfying food.

There's nothing finer for this oncoming generation than good bread, and there's no bread quite so fine as HOLSUM. In this tempting loaf are all the vital food elements that build glowing health—the valuable mineral salts, the rich proteins, and the priceless vitamins. All are here, in generous measure.

HOLSUM is made clean, in a big, clean community bread kitchen, of pure milk and other choice materials. It's baked to golden perfection, and rushed to your grocer fresh from the ovens twice every day.

ALL MARION BAKERIES BAKE GOOD BREAD

When you buy a loaf of Marion bread at your grocer's, the baker stands squarely behind its quality. Do you know their trade names? Remember them, when you ask for bread—

"SUNBEAM"—baked by the Ackerman Bakery.

"HONEY KRUST"—baked by the Home Bakery.

"GOLDEN CRUST"—baked by Chas. Bauminger Bakery.

"BAMBY"—baked by Reicher's Quality Bakery.

"HOLSUM," "SUNBURST," "BABER'S TWIN"

baked by the City Bakery.

"PEADON'S"—baked by Peadon's Bakery.

"LONG BOY," "TETE'S SPECIAL" and

"DADDY BREAD"—baked by the Union Baking Company.

The bakers support 300 people and they live in Marion and not on it.

SALT SEA WATER URGED FOR RESTORING YOUTH
PRAGUE—Dr. salt sea-water urged Professor Rudzika, of this city, already celebrated for his theory of restoring youth.
"It will bring health and long life," says the Tchek savant, "and everyone should drink at least one glass of it at every meal."
The chloride and iodide salts contained in sea water make it a most efficacious tonic, according to the doctor.

To PROTECT HOSIERY and Lingerie from "Soap Eat" or Fade

Stops Fade and "Soap Eat" Even When Ordinary Laundry Soap Is Used

Fragile hosiery and delicate-tinted French lingerie can now be washed frequently, but still protected from soap eat or fading color, even when ordinary laundry soap or powders are used.

Under the new method described here, even faintest pastel colors in fine lingerie or delicately tinted hosiery hold fast, according to recent tests, for as many as 50 washings, without noticeable fade or wear.

The method is very simple: To each tubful of water (or water filled to the water line) you merely add 2 tablespoons of a preparation called CLIMALENE and use just ONE-FOURTH the quantity of soap you ordinarily use. Then proceed with washing as usual. (For small wash basins, use 1 teaspoonful of CLIMALENE.)

This preparation is used by experts to stop fade and "soap eat." It acts by converting hard, or semi-hard water to rain water softness and to dissolve grease and dirt. White clothes, washed this way, never grow yellow—but wash pure white. Delicate colors hold fast. You can easily get it at any grocery store. Two sizes, 10c and 25c. Just ask your grocer for CLIMALENE.
